- (3) in subsection (2) thereof, by the substitution for the words “requiring the use of electronic records specified in subsection (1), may recommend the making of regulations for the purpose of authorizing or facilitating the use of electronic communications or electronic records,”, of the words “requiring the use of data message, electronic record, electronic document or electronic communication specified in subsection (1), may recommend the making of regulations for the purpose of authorizing or facilitating the use of such data message, electronic record, electronic document or electronic communication,”.

Amendment of section 10 of the principal enactment.

7. Section 10 of the principal enactment is hereby repealed and the following section substituted therefor:-

“Ministry, department, & etc, to accept or issue any document in electronic form.

10. Every ministry, department, institution, public corporation or other similar body may, subject to the provisions of this Act, accept or issue, any document in the form of data message, electronic record, electronic document or other communication in electronic form.”.

Insertion of new section 11A in the principal enactment.

8. The following new section is hereby inserted immediately after section 11 of the principal enactment and shall have effect as section 11A of that enactment :-

“Invitation to make offers.

11A. A proposal to conclude a contract made through one or more electronic communications which is not addressed to one or more specific parties, but is generally accessible to parties making use of any information systems, shall be considered as an invitation to make offers, unless it clearly indicates the intention of the party making the proposal to be bound in case of acceptance.”.

9. Section 14 of the principal enactment is hereby amended:-

Amendment of section 14 of the principal
enactment.

- (1) in subsection (1) thereof, by the substitution for the words “enters an information system outside the control of the originator,” of the words “leaves an information system under the control of the originator,”;
- (2) by the repeal of subsection (2) thereof, and the substitution therefor, of the following new subsection:-

“(2) (a) Unless otherwise agreed between the originator and the addressee, the time of receipt of a data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication shall be determined as follows, namely-

- (i) if the addressee has designated an electronic address for the purpose of receiving data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication, time of receipt occurs at the time when the said data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication becomes capable of being retrieved by the addressee; or
- (ii) if the addressee has not designated an electronic address or has indicated another electronic address for the purpose of receiving data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication, time of receipt occurs at the time when the said data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication becomes capable of being retrieved by the addressee at that electronic address and the addressee becomes aware that the said data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication has been sent to that electronic address.

(b) For the purpose of this subsection, a data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication is presumed to be capable of being retrieved by the addressee when the said data message, electronic document, electronic record or other communication reaches the addressee's electronic address.”;

- (3) by the repeal of subsection (5) thereof, and the substitution therefor, of the following new subsection-

“(5) For the purposes of this section—

- (a) if the originator or the addressee has not indicated a place of business or has more than one place of business, the place of business is that which has the closest relationship to the relevant contract, having regard to the circumstances known to or contemplated by the originator or the addressee before or at the conclusion of the contract;

- (b) if the originator or the addressee does not have a place of business, his usual place of residence shall be deemed to be the place of business;
- (c) a location is not a place of business merely because-
  - (i) the equipment and technology supporting an information system used by a particular originator or the addressee in connection with the formation of a contract, are in that particular location; or
  - (ii) the information system may be accessed by addressee in that location;
- (d) the fact that the originator or the addressee makes use of a domain name or electronic mail address connected to a specific country does not create a presumption that the said originator or the addressee's place of business is located in that country;
- (e) a party's place of business is presumed to be the location indicated by that party, unless another party demonstrates that the party making the indication does not have a place of business at that location; and
- (f) "usual place of residence" in relation to a body corporate, means the place where it is registered."

Insertion of new section 14A in the principal enactment.

10. The following new section is hereby inserted immediately after section 14 of the principal enactment and shall have effect as section 14A of that enactment:-

“Error in electronic communications.

14A. (1) Where a natural person in relation to the formation or performance of an electronic contract, makes an input error in an electronic communication exchanged with the automated message system of another party and the automated message system does not provide the person with an opportunity to correct the error, that person, or the party on whose behalf that person was acting, has the right to withdraw the portion of the electronic communication in which the input error was made, if-

- (a) the person, or the party on whose behalf that person was acting, notifies the other party of the error as soon as possible after having learned of the error and indicates that he made an error in the electronic communication; and
- (b) the person, or the party on whose behalf that person was acting, has not used or received any material benefit or value from the goods and services, if any, received from the other party.
