Greetings :

Whereas, having duly recognized the manpower needs of public and the private sector in the process of achieving the targets of the Medium Term Economic Development Framework presented by the new Government and to meet the aspirations of the people, the Government proposed to offer a package of incentives to recruit and retain in the public service personnel who are competent and capable of handling the task of efficient delivery of services, facilitation of the development process and carrying out regulatory functions, where necessary.

AND WHEREAS, the Government has recognized the need to make the employees of the entire public sector as well as the private sector a contented and motivated lot;

AND WHEREAS, it is considered necessary to take note of the structural changes underway in the economy in diverting human resources to different sectors and that the cost of labour is maintained at a competitive level favourable to Sri Lanka by raising productivity of the labour force to international competitive levels ;

AND WHEREAS it is recognized that inappropriate competition between the public sector and private sector as a whole as well as amongst various institutions within the public sector be avoided in the fulfillment of manpower needs of the country.

AND WHEREAS the Government has recognized the need to gear up the public sector to achieve high levels of productivity and efficiency and to help eliminate current drawbacks in the fulfillment of manpower needs of the private sector.

AND WHEREAS the Government is conscious of the prevailing practices of recruitment and determination of salaries and wages and the need to rationalize cadre requirement of public sector institutions consistent with efficient and productive service delivery.

AND WHEREAS difficulties are being experienced in recruiting and retaining professionals to Government Departments due to the payment of widely different salaries and remunerations in the Semi- Government sector such as State Corporations and State Banks to those with equal academic, professional qualifications who discharge almost similar responsibilities in the public service.

AND WHEREAS having recognized the need to put in place suitable special methodologies by the introduction of salary scales exclusively for competent individuals specialized in the fields of Management, Science and Technology as well as for professionals with particular expertise in order to attract them to the Public Sector at present and in the near future to efficiently fulfill the role of the Public Sector in the economic development process, thereby more meaningfully implement government economic policy and to introduce necessary changes to conditions of employment.

AND WHEREAS it is considered appropriate to introduce part time or any other suitable employment scheme that could enhance productivity and competitiveness by attracting skilled workers who are inclined to serve for shorter period that is required in the case of permanent service and create alternative conditions consistent with prevailing unemployment rates and the aging of the population.

AND WHEREAS being aware that the recurrent expenditure of the Government is at excessive level and recognizing the need for the most appropriate methodologies to be adopted within the limits of Government funds to provide non-monetary incentives after review of the various incentives and reward schemes including gratuities currently being operated by certain government institutions.

AND WHEREAS realizing the need for the settlement of disputes that have arisen in relation to the existing salaries and wages, cadre and conditions of service, schemes of recruitment and promotion and Service Minutes.

AND WHEREAS the Government has identified the need to introduce appropriate methodologies guaranteeing a suitable minimum wage, security of employment and provision of essential welfare amenities to the employees based on a scientific analysis of the current socio-economic and public finance situation to ensure the flow of benefits of economic development to the community as a whole.

AND WHEREAS giving highest priority to all aforesaid the Government is desirous of establishing a Salaries and Cadre Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Commission) for the purpose of :

- a. Reviewing the currently sanctioned staff for each institution in the public sector as a whole including the Provincial Councils and propose an optimal staff for each such institution.
- b. Recommending proposals to bring about a fundamental change in the current management systems and the administrative ethos in the public service in such a way as to facilitate the achievement of set objectives and evaluation of performance with a view to enhancing productivity of the public service.
- c. Formulating innovative schemes to determine and adjust salaries, wages, annual bonus, various other incentives (such as new productivity, circle allowance etc.) of the public service in keeping with the current accelerated Economic Development Programme which is based on the concept of good governance.
- d. Making recommendations for the introduction of a suitable salaries and wages structure for the public service including the Provincial Public Service ; Semi-Government service including State Corporation, State Enterprises and Statutory Boards, Central Bank of Sri Lanka and State Banking sector ; Armed Services ; Universities and Special Institutions for which legislative provisions have been made for the salaries and emoluments of staff to be charged on the Consolidated Fund ; with focus on matters referred Preamble.
- e. Recommending a suitable National Salaries and Wages Policy in order to prevent inappropriate competition that may arise in diverting manpower resources to the Public Sector Institution including those referred to at (d) above and the private sector.
- f. Initiating such action as is deemed appropriate until such time that a National Salary and Wage Policy is formulated and implemented as mentioned at (e) above ; to minimize the issues identified in relation to salaries, staff and Service Minutes in giving effect to the Public Administration and Management Circular No. 30 or salary anomalies occasioned by the salary increases granted and to act as an arbitrator and in such instances to provide solutions having regard to the National Salaries and Wages Policy to be formulated in the future.
- g. Making recommendations regarding the methodology to be adopted in the payment or revision of pensions consequent to salary increases effected in the public sector from time to time.
- h. Formulating a methodology and submit recommendations to the Government on the implementation of a contributory pension scheme for employees of the public service.

AND WHEREAS I am of the view that the execution of the duties and responsibilities the said Commission is entrusted with, as indentified above, should commence immediately in the public service.

Now, therefore, I, Maithripala Sirisena, President, in pursuance of the provisions of Article 33(2) of the Constitution of the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka do hereby establish the National Salaries and Cadre Commission to undertake and execute the said duties and responsibilities for a two (02) year period commencing March 3rd, 2016.

And reposing great trust and confidence in your prudence, ability and fidelity, do by these presents, appoint you, the said,
