Chapter VIII

Period of Probation and Confirmation of Appointment

Probationary Period of Three Years

109. The Appointing Authority shall subject every public officer appointed to a permanent post in the public service to a probationary period of three years.
110. A public officer appointed subject to a period of probation shall prove his suitability for the relevant post by diligently fulfilling during such period, the obligations and responsibilities imposed on him by his letter of appointment, good conduct and attendance and efficient service.
111. An officer should be regarded as being on probation with a view to learning work and being tested for his suitability for permanent retention. He should not only be given all facilities for acquiring experience in the duties and responsibilities relevant to his post but also be under continuous monitoring, sympathetic observation and guidance.
112. Where, during his period of probation, he shows any tendencies which render doubtful his suitability for permanent retention, he should at once be warned and given such assistances as may be possible to correct his failings by the Appointing Authority/ Administrative Authority. Any admonition administered for any serious act or omission or any fault of conduct or character which, if persisted in, may prevent his confirmation, should be communicated to him in writing and acknowledgement obtained. Such acknowledgment shall be conclusive proof of the fact that the officer was warned of his failings and given an opportunity for improvement.
113. It shall be the duty of the Appointing Authority to terminate the services of an officer on probation against whom specific instances of misconduct cannot be urged but whose temperament, behaviour and other defects render him unsuitable for further retention in the public service. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded specifically and in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support such decision are kept secured. The letter of termination should be in the format of Appendix 07 with alterations where necessary.
114. The Head of the Department shall prepare review reports in respect of the first and second years of probation in the format of Appendix 08. On receipt of each of the report, it should be carefully considered and where necessary he should be warned of any shortcomings. The final review report together with first and second year reports should be submitted to the Appointing Authority at least 03 months prior to the expiry of the probationary period. Before the expiry of the period of probation, all three reports should be taken into consideration by the Appointing Authority and an order be made either confirming or extending the period of probation. The officer concerned should be informed of the decision in each case in writing.
115. If the Appointing Authority decides that the officer is not fit and suitable for confirmation, then the Appointing Authority may extend his period of probation by one year at a time subject to a maximum period of 03 years and shall defer the officer's increments. Such officer shall diligently engage in improving his performances during such extended period.
116. Where an inquiry into an irregularity committed by an officer on probation cannot be completed before the expiry of the period of probation, the appointment of such officer should be terminated or the period of probation extended taking into consideration the circumstances of the case.

117. At the end of each extended period of probation, the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution shall prepare a review report as per Appendix 08. Where such report reveals deficiencies that may prevent his suitability for confirmation in his post, it shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to extend or terminate the appointment of the officer subject to Sections 115 and 116 above. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support his decision are kept secured.

Probationary period of One Year

118. A public officer holding a permanent post in the public service when appointed to another permanent post in the public service shall be subject to a probationary period of one year. However, where the prior service and experience of an officer already confirmed in the public service is not a criterion of eligibility for the new post, such officer shall be subject to a probationary period of three years.
119. If the Appointing Authority deems that the probationary period of one year is inadequate considering the period the officer would normally require to fulfil any condition that may be laid down for confirmation in the new post, the Appointing Authority may determine a sufficient period of probation not more than three years.
120. Where a public officer whose appointment has been confirmed is appointed to another permanent post in the public service subject to a probationary period of one year, the Head of Department or Head of the Institution shall prepare a review report in respect of such officer in the format of Appendix 08.
121. Where such review report reveals any deficiencies that might prevent his suitability for confirmation in his post, such fact must be forthwith communicated to the officer in writing and timely guidance given by the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution and the Appointing Authority or the Administrative Authority shall defer the officer's increment and extend his period of probation by one year at a time subject to a maximum period of 03 years.
122. Where an inquiry into an irregularity committed by an officer on probationary period of one year cannot be completed before the expiry of the period of probation, the Appointing Authority shall take action to extend the probationary period of such officer taking into consideration the circumstances of the case.

Confirmation or Reversion or Termination of Appointment

123. An officer appointed to the public service subject to a period of probation, shall prove within this period, his suitability for public service by diligently fulfilling the obligations and responsibilities imposed on him by his letter of appointment, good conduct and attendance and efficient service. If at the end of the period of probation, the officer's work, conduct and attendance are judged to have been satisfactory, and if he has fulfilled all the requirements for confirmation in that appointment, the appropriate authority shall confirm his service with effect from the date of appointment concerned.
124. In the event of termination of the appointment of an officer appointed as per Section 118 above at the end of the period of probation, it shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to revert him to his former post. If the former post of the officer is no longer vacant, he shall be reverted to such post on supernumerary basis. However, when a vacancy occurs in the substantive post, he should be appointed to such substantive post. In such an instance, the Appointing Authority or Administrative Authority shall ensure that all reasons which led to such a decision are recorded in detail in the relevant file and all factors that support his decision are kept secured, as the case may be. Letter of reversion to the former post shall be prepared in the format of Appendix 09 with necessary alterations. When an officer is reverted and placed in his former post without a break in his former service, the conditions of appointment relating to his former post shall once again come into force.

125. The Appointing Authority shall take action to confirm the appointment or to extend the period of probation or to terminate the appointment of a public officer on probation as soon as the officer concerned completes such period of probation. If his period of probation had been extended on grounds that were within his control, his salary increment shall invariably be deferred until he is confirmed in his post. All such decisions, whatever, shall be communicated to the officer in writing by the Appointing Authority. The officer shall have no claim whatsoever for salary increments deferred owing to his deficiencies.
126. Notwithstanding the fact that all the requirements have been fulfilled on the due date, appointment of a public officer is deemed to have been confirmed only after the issuance of a formal letter in the format of Appendix 10 to the effect that the relevant appointment has been confirmed by the Appointing Authority. Until such a letter has been issued, the officer shall be deemed as not having been confirmed in his appointment. In order to avoid any hardship that may be caused to the officer by the delay in issuing a letter even after the fulfilment of all requirements, the relevant Appointing Authority shall be mindful of the fact that such letters should be issued duly and without delay.
127. Where an officer is unable to obtain qualifications during the prescribed period for confirmation in his appointment owing to reasons beyond his control, the Appointing Authority may extend his period of probation by a reasonable period of time enabling him to obtain such qualifications. It shall be the duty of such public officer to obtain the required qualifications for confirmation in his appointment during the extended length of time. In such case, the officer shall be confirmed in his appointment with effect from the date of his appointment in such a manner that it will have no adverse effect on his seniority and salary increments. Provided, however, that the Appointing Authority shall terminate his appointment if the officer fails to obtain the required qualifications during the extended period of the probation owing to his negligence or inattention.
128. Where an officer fails to qualify for confirmation at the proper time, that is within the initial period of probation, for reasons within his control, but qualifies for confirmation during an extension of the period of probation granted to him, the salary increment falling due after the expiry of the initial period of probation will be deferred by the length of time taken in excess of the initial period allowed to qualify and he shall be confirmed in his appointment with effect from the date of his appointment. In this case, the Appointing Authority shall issue a letter in the format of Appendix 10. Furthermore, the seniority in the service or grade of an officer so confirmed shall be determined by the date on which he acquired all necessary qualifications for confirmation.
129. However, where a public officer fails to complete the period of probation prescribed in his letter of appointment owing to a reason beyond his control such as reaching on the age of compulsory retirement or permanent release from the service, such a case shall be referred to the Public Service Commission to make a decision on the confirmation of the officer confirmed.

Chapter IX

Appointment to Act in a post or Attend to the duties of a post

Acting appointment

130. The power to make an appointment to act or attend to duties in a post lies solely with the Appointing Authority.
131. A public officer should be appointed to act in a post only under the following circumstances-
- I. to bear the responsibilities and perform the duties of a particular post in the approved cadre of a government department or institution where the substantive holder of such post is away from work for a particular length of time with due approval or;
 - II. to bear the responsibilities and perform the duties of a particular post remaining vacant in the approved cadre of a government department or institution until such time the Appointing Authority makes a permanent appointment to such post.
132. Only an officer who is confirmed in his substantive post and is serving in a comparable post or a post immediately below it and has fulfilled all the qualifications stipulated in the approved Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment of the relevant post can be appointed to act in such post.
133. An acting appointment shall be made for the performance of the work of a post on full-time basis or in addition to the duties of a post the relevant officer already holds.
134. An officer holding an acting appointment shall not be entitled to the salary of the post to which he has been appointed to act whether on a temporary or a permanent basis.

Appointment to attend to duties of a post

135. Where no public officer qualified for appointment in terms of Section 132 above to act in a post that has fallen vacant is available, a most suitable officer may be appointed by the Appointing Authority to attend to the duties of such post.
136. Any allowance and privilege attached to a particular post may be enjoyed by the officer acting or attending to the duties in such post during the period of acting or the period of attending to the duties of the post. He shall have no claim for such allowance or privilege when the acting appointment or period of attending to the duties is terminated.
137. An officer can be appointed to attend to the duties of a particular post only if such post is either superior or comparable to the post the officer presently holds.

General conditions governing acting appointments or appointments to attend to duties of a post

138. Only an officer in a service specified in the Service Minute or Scheme of Recruitment relating to a particular post can be appointed to act or attend to the duties in such post and an officer belonging to any other service shall not be appointed to such post.
139. Any appointment to act or attend to duties shall be subject to a maximum period of one year. Before the expiry of such period, the Administrative Authority or / and the Appointing Authority shall appoint a suitable officer to such post on permanent basis. However, the Appointing Authority may consider the extension of an appointment to act or attend to duties beyond a period of one year.
140. Where the Appointing Authority has appointed a permanent officer to a post for which an appointment had been made to act or perform duties of such post, it shall be the responsibility of the Head of the Institution or the Head of the Department or the Appointing Authority to provide him with necessary facilities to perform the duties in such post. When a permanent appointment is made by the Appointing Authority, the appointment made on the basis of acting or attending to duties to such post shall automatically cease.
141. Where a permanent appointment is made to a post, no officer shall be afforded any special entitlement to such post or any special advantage or any additional amount of marks under the Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment solely on the basis of his having acted or attended to duties in that particular post.

Chapter X

Efficiency Bar

General

142. A public officer shall fulfil the requirements of the Efficiency Bar as stipulated in the Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment, for confirmation in the appointment or promotion to a higher post or to pass a specific salary step.
143. Efficiency Bar Examinations shall be conducted by the appropriate authority as prescribed in the Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment.
144. Where the Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment does not specify the authority who should conduct the Efficiency Bar Examinations, such Efficiency Bar Examinations shall be conducted by the Appointing Authority or an officer or institution designated by the Appointing Authority.
145. A public officer who has passed the Efficiency Bar Examination shall be issued a letter in the format of Appendix 11 without delay by the Appointing Authority stating that he has passed the relevant Efficiency Bar Examination. Furthermore, the appropriate officer shall take action to attach a photocopy of such letter to the relevant form required for the approval of the next salary increment of the public officer.
146. The effective date of passing an examination for the purpose of confirmation of an appointment to a permanent post or promotion or passing an Efficiency Bar will be the date of conducting that examination at which the officer fulfils the requirement. If, however, no examination has been held on the prescribed date by any means, the effective date of passing such examination by an officer shall be determined by the Commission having regard to the reason for the delay in holding the examination.
147. The effective date of passing an Efficiency Bar Examination by an officer shall be the commencing date of the examination at which he completes such requirement of the Efficiency Bar.
148. Where an officer is required to acquire a postgraduate degree or diploma or equivalent qualification as a requirement for completing the Efficiency Bar Examination, the date stated as being valid in such certificates shall be reckoned as the date on which he completes the requirement of the Efficiency Bar. However, where the effective date mentioned in such certificates is a date prior to the appointment of the officer to the service, that officer can accordingly be released from the requirement of the relevant Efficiency Bar.

Delay in passing the Efficiency Bar Examination

149. Where a public officer fails to pass an Efficiency Bar Examination on the due date, the Appointing Authority or the Administrative Authority or the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution, as the case may be, shall defer the salary increment of the public officer with effect from that date and formally inform the officer of such fact. When the increments are deferred by the respective Head of the Department or Head of the Institute, a copy of the letter informing the officer of such fact should also be sent to the Appointing Authority and the Administrative Authority.

150. It shall only be with the approval of the Public Service Commission or an authority with delegated power, that a public officer who could not complete the Efficiency Bar Examination on the due date owing to any special reason beyond his control may be granted an extension of the prescribed time to pass such examination. The officer shall prior to lapse of a period of one year after passing the prescribed Efficiency Bar Examination make a request for such extension in writing in the prescribed form to the Public Service Commission or the authority with delegated power.
151. The public officer may be allowed to draw his salary increments during the period so extended. Furthermore, such an extended period shall not be an impediment for the promotions or for the seniority of the officer.
152. If an officer does not pass the prescribed Efficiency Bar Examination during the extended period referred to in 150, the salary increment that falls due immediately after the expiry of such period shall be deferred by a period of time equal to the time taken in excess of the extension allowed to pass the Efficiency Bar Examination.

Departmental Examinations

153. The departmental examinations, as appropriate, shall be included in the relevant Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment submitted for the approval of the Public Service Commission.
154. A method or system should be drawn up for each departmental examination stipulated for confirmation and promotion. It shall be the responsibility of the Head of the Department or the Head of the Institution to ensure that such method or system is formulated and that the relevant examination is held on the due dates.
155. The Appointing Authority shall take action to duly inform the officers concerned of the date on which the departmental examination is held at least three weeks before the closing date of the applications for it.

Chapter XI

Seniority

1. Seniority List

156. It shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to prepare and continue to update the seniority list.
157. It shall be the responsibility of the respective Administrative Authority to prepare and continue to update the seniority list of the services over which the Public Service Commission is the Appointing Authority.
158. It shall be the responsibility of the authority referred in Sections 156 or 157 to publish the seniority list updated as at the 01st day of January and the 01st day of July every year.

Determination of Seniority

159. The seniority of officers in a class or grade of a particular service shall be determined based on the dates on which each of such officers was appointed to such class or grade in that particular service and the seniority of officers serving in the posts carrying equal status in a particular department or institution shall be determined based on the dates on which each of such officers assumed duties of that particular department or institution.
160. Where more than one public officer had assumed duties on a particular day, their seniority shall be determined in the order of cumulative total of marks obtained by them at all the tests held for recruitment in accordance with the Service Minute or Scheme of Recruitment. Where there are officers who had obtained equal marks, all of them shall be treated as having the same seniority.
161. Seniority of an officer in a grade or class shall only be altered in the following instances.
 - I. Where he fails to pass the Efficiency Bar Examination as at the due date;
 - II. Where his probationary period is extended in terms of Section 125 of Chapter VIII of these Procedural Rules;
 - III. Where an order of demotion in seniority is made as a disciplinary punishment.
162. When an officer is reverted to his previous post, his seniority in the post or grade to which he is reverted will be determined in accordance with the following rules.
 - I. Where an officer is demoted in seniority or rank and is reverted on disciplinary grounds to a lower grade or post that he held previously, his seniority in the lower grade or post on such reversion shall be determined in accordance with the order of the Disciplinary Authority.
 - II. When on abolition of office or due to redundancy, an officer is reverted with the approval of the Appointing Authority to a post or grade previously held by him, his seniority in the post or grade to which he is reverted should, with the approval of the Public Service Commission, be determined on the basis of the aggregate service he counts in that relevant post or grade. Accordingly, he will be junior to all officers whose length of service in that post or grade is equal to or more than the aggregate of his service in that particular post or grade. If he has not passed an Efficiency Bar Examination, he will not be placed in seniority over any officer who has been promoted having passed the Efficiency Bar Examination.
 - III. If an officer is reverted at his own request and with the approval of the Appointing Authority to a post previously held by him, such reversion will be treated as a new appointment and his seniority will be determined by the date of reversion. Where, however, a salary step higher than the initial is allowed to such officer with the approval of the Director General of Establishments as per the provisions stated in the Establishments Code, his seniority may, with the approval of the Commission, be determined with reference either to the length of service in that post at the time he relinquished it or the time an officer appointed on the initial of the salary scale would take to reach that salary step, whichever is less.

- IV. An officer who has been temporarily released on no pay leave for a post outside the public service (see Chapter XII) will retain his seniority in his post or grade subject to his passing any Efficiency Bar Examination which he is required to pass, provided that the no pay leave is deemed to have been granted on grounds of public policy for purposes of the Minutes on Pensions.
- V. Where no pay leave is not granted or not deemed to have been granted on grounds of public policy for the purpose of Section 10 (1) of the Minutes on Pensions, the period of such temporary release will not count for seniority and such officer will rank as junior to all those officers whose length of service in the particular post or grade on the date on which he reverts to his former post is more than his service up to the date on which he was temporarily released.
- VI. Where an officer on being appointed to a new post in the public service itself is duly reverted or returned to his former post by the Appointing Authority during the training period or probationary period related thereto for reasons other than disciplinary grounds, the period served by such public officer in such post he subsequently held shall be treated as part of his service in determining his seniority in his former post.

163. An officer who has been permanently released in terms of the provisions in Chapter XII shall have no right of reversion to his former post or service.

- I. However, the Commission may consider a request for reversion of an officer to his former post or grade within a period of one year from the date of his release only upon the following circumstances.

- I. Medical grounds concerning the officer;
- II. Legal matters;
- III. Policy decisions made by the government.

- II. Notwithstanding the other provisions set out in these Procedural Rules, the reversion to such post will be regarded for all purposes as a new appointment made outside the scheme of recruitment and his seniority will be determined as at date of his reversion to such post. However, such officer shall have the right to a higher seniority over another officer who has received appointment on the date he is reverted to such post.

164. On reemployment, the seniority of an officer will be determined in accordance with the following rules.

- I. Where an officer who has retired is reemployed in the same post or grade from which he retired, his seniority will be determined by the period he had served in the post or grade from which he retired, up to the date of his retirement.
- II. Where an officer who has retired is reemployed in a post or grade other than that from which he retired, his seniority will be determined by the date of his reemployment.
- III. Where an officer whose prior services have been terminated by resignation or vacation of post or by reason of unsatisfactory work and conduct is reemployed, he will not be entitled to any claim for seniority on account of his past services. His seniority will be determined by the date of his reemployment.

Chapter XII

Release of a public officer

Release for appointment to another post in the public service

165. If an officer holding an appointment in the public service wishes to obtain an appointment to another post in the public service, he should secure his release from the appointment he holds.
166. The application to secure such release shall be made to the Appointing Authority through the Head of the Department or Head of the Institution in accordance with the Appendices 12 or 13, as the case may be.
167. The Appointing Authority shall not refuse an application for release by an officer unless,
 - I. The officer is under a bond to serve in that post or Department;
 - II. Even though he is not under a bond, he has been specially trained to perform the duties of his post;

 178. It shall be the duty of the Head of the Department and/ or Head of the Institution to bring such matters to the notice of the Appointing Authority when requests for retirement of public officers are made.

234. Every promotion in the public service shall be made only in accordance with the approved Service Minute or Scheme of Recruitment. It shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to promote public officers in compliance with the provisions of the Service Minutes or Schemes of Recruitment approved by the Commission within the prescribed periods.
235. Before making a promotion, it shall be the responsibility of the Appointing Authority to satisfy himself that a vacancy in the approved cadre exists in all promotions except in the case of a grade to grade promotion made irrespective of the vacant positions where an officer has acquired all the necessary qualifications.
236. A public officer should earn his promotion by achieving satisfactory service and fulfilling other qualifications as prescribed in the Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment, as the case may be.
- I. Where an officer has not been granted his due annual salary increments for legitimate reasons, the period during which the increment had stood suspended or reduced or stopped or deferred and where an officer has been found guilty of an offence punishable under First Schedule of offences, a period of three years from the date of commitment of the offence and where an officer has been found guilty of an offence falling under Second Schedule of offences, a period of one year from the date of commitment of the offence, shall be excluded in computing his period of satisfactory service.
 - II. It should be considered ineligible to recruit an officer under limited and merit (service experience) streams or for grade promotion made on the number of vacancies as per the Schemes of Recruitment and Service Minutes on whom a disciplinary punishment has been imposed for an offence set out under the First Schedule of Offences of Chapter XLVIII of the Establishments Code, an officer on whom a disciplinary punishment has been imposed for an offence set out under the Second Schedule of Offences of Chapter XLVIII of the Establishments Code and an officer on whom a disciplinary punishment has been imposed for an offence under Section 25.2 of Chapter XLVIII of the Establishments Code following the Summary Disciplinary Procedure for a period of five (05) years, two (02) years and one (01) year respectively from the date of the commitment of the offence by the officer concerned.
237. In counting the period of service for a promotion in the public service, only the period of active service in the officer's respective service, class or grade should be taken into account.

238. It shall be the duty of the Appointing Authority or the Administrative Authority to conduct the relevant examinations, professional tests, interviews etc. on the due dates in order to provide public officers with an opportunity to acquire qualifications necessary for promotion.
239. Notwithstanding the provisions contained in Sections 35, 36 and 37 of Chapter III, where the Appointing Authority makes a decision to promote an officer in a service from one grade to another after the due date and whereupon the Appointing Authority considers that the public officer concerned is in no way responsible for such delay in the decision regarding his promotion, the Appointing Authority shall take action to grant such promotion with effect from the due date. Before the decision, the Appointing Authority should satisfy himself that the officer has fulfilled all the requirements for his promotion by that due date, irrespective of the fact that the officer is no longer in service or retired or deceased.
240. However, where a promotion is made on the results of a written examination and/ or an interview or based on vacancies, such promotion shall come into force to be effective as from the date on which the officer concerned had fulfilled such qualifications.
241. Where marks are allocated to an officer for examinations, professional tests and interviews for evaluating eligibility conducted in accordance with the approved Service Minute or the Scheme of Recruitment, the approved marking scheme should be included in the advertisement calling for applications for such promotions or should be made known before holding the interviews.
242. Where an internal promotion is made to a post on the basis of seniority and merit, the date of promotion to the post should be clearly stated in the advertisement calling for applications. If the relevant Service Minute or the Scheme of Promotion or Recruitment unless otherwise provided for, the date of promotion should be decided taking into consideration the following facts.
- I. Availability of financial provisions to fill the vacancy;
 - II. The need to fill the vacancy;
 - III. The need to minimize the payment of arrears of salary.
- When the date of promotion and the closing date for applications stated in the advertisement are two different dates, the applicants should fulfil the required qualifications as at the date of promotion and the criteria of their seniority and merit should be assessed at the relevant interviews for evaluating eligibility based on the date of promotion.
243. The provisions in Chapter VII on “Procedure to be followed in Recruitments and the Appointments” in these Procedural Rules shall apply, as appropriate with regard to the promotions as well.
